Our Reputation

For selling high grade reliable goods is fully established. No one questions that we give full value for money received, but there is a class of very desirable customers, who have the notion that we carry only high priced goods, this is a mistake you may easily prove. No one gives closer attention to having the low priced goods right than we do, knowing that the man who pays $7.50, $10.00 or $12.00 for a suit is the one who can least afford to take chances on what he gets for his money. Try us on a low priced suit for man, boy, or child. We will not disappoint you. Our working clothes are the very best to be had.

Disease in the Schools.

More than 100,000 children of school age are annually laid prostrate by the three preventable diseases of diphtheria, tuberculosis and scarlet fever, and 20,000 of these illnesses terminate fatally. In diphtheria and scarlet fever, the infection generally passes from pupil to pupil in the early stage of the disease, which only medical inspection can detect.

How widespread may be the infection resulting from the presence of one source of contagion is forcibly demonstrated by an occurrence in a school at Millgrove, Ohio, where a boy with incipient measles infected every member of the school, including the teacher, so that they all fell sick within ten days. If discovered early, the sick are not only prevented from infecting the well, but are, in most cases, easily cured. To one year about 700 pupils with diphtheria, scarlet fever and tuberculosis were found attending the schools of Massachusetts. During the same period several thousand cases of measles, mumps, grippe and typhoid were excluded from these schools in the interest of health. There can be no doubt that the early discovery of these ailments prevented them from infecting hundreds of other children.

Over 15,000 cases of contagious eye diseases were found in the New York City schools in one year, and 65,000 other children excluded for various transmissible ailments ranging from diphtheria to whooping cough. In Philadelphia about 10,000 of the school attendants during the year are excluded at one time, because of diseases which menace the health of their associates.

From "Slaughter of the Innocents," in June Technical World Magazine.

The annual inspection of the university of Vermont battalion made by the government was held Thursday morning on the college campus in the presence of a large number of people. The inspecting officer was Captain Penn, U. S. A. A review of the entire battalion was held first by Captain Penn, President Buckham and Major Tate, Cadet Major Morton commanding. Inspection proper followed, battalion drill by the respective company commanders, and extended and close order formations. The inspection concluded with battalion parade. The presence of the college band added much to the success of the inspection. The battalion made a most creditable showing, and in the opinion of a military man present, the inspection revealed splendid work in instruction by Major Tate.

The hearing in the case of Napoleon Paquin, charged with furnishing to Henry Andrews which was continued until this morning was again continued until June 1st after a short stay chamber hearing this forenoon. Paquin was allowed to go on his own recognisance.

All those having meal and lodging tickets which they wish redeemed please present same at my office at once, and before May 27. Those who have bills against me please have them approved by the chairman of the committee contracting them and present them at once. H. W. Scott, chairman committee.

George W. Gorman went to Bellows Falls today for a visit over Sunday with relatives. Mr. Gorman has resigned his position as billing clerk in the office of the Barre railroad to accept a position in the office of the Perry Granite company at Waterbury. He has been employed in the Barre railroad office nearly eight years.

The work of moving the Central Vermont turn table so as to straighten the tracks by the passenger station was completed today. The table was moved towards the Allen company's office seven feet and was raised up one foot. To allow for moving the table the Allen Lumber company's office had to be moved 14 feet towards the Barre railroad tracks.

The big clock in the window of S. J. Segel and company stopped again today at about 12 o'clock, and will be unveiled by 5 p. m. to see what time it actually did stop. Every holder of purchase coupons is requested to come and compare their coupons between 5 and 7 tonight, and see who the fortunate one is for this Saturday. This same contest will be repeated every Saturday during the summer.

At this time we wish to extend to all the citizens and associations our sincere thanks for the many courtesies extended during our Old Fellows week. We appreciate the assistance rendered the committee and are grateful therefore. We hope that the visit of the Old Fellows of Vermont to our city has been so mutually pleasant that they will desire to repeat the visit in the near future and that the citizens of Barre will want to welcome them as enthusiastically as they have this time. H. W. Scott for the committee.
